Portland a Port of Entry.

We hear many complaints from our fellow-citizens, merchants especially, of the difficulties attending the receipt of imports and the transacting the Customs business in relation thereto. We do not design considering the subject at present, farther than to introduce a pertinent extract, and suggest the profitable employment of the time before the next meeting of Congress, so that proper representations, backed by petitions, may be in readiness for the use of our State Delegation at the Capitol. If the facts will not justify our demand for a Port of Entry we should not have one, but we believe they will, and it therefore only remains for our people to collate and present them. Below we quote from the Portland correspondent of the S. F. Bulletin, touching the bill presented at the last session of Congress:

The new bill is to make Portland a port of delivery, and provide for the appointment of a Surveyor of Customs here, according to the terms of the act approved March 2d, 1831. This act is entitled "An act allowing duties on foreign merchandise imported into Pittsburg, Wheeling, Cincinnati, Louisville, St Louis, Nashville, and Natchez to be secured and paid at these places."

As it may be of some interest to the mercantile community to see how the law regulating importations to Portland will stand under the new act, I will give a synopsis of the leading features of the act of 1831, as it applies to Portland and this district. An importer who desires to import goods to Portland must before their arrival at Astoria make a schedule of the goods and an estimate of their cost at the port of exportation, and deliver the same to the Surveyor at Portland. Upon that schedule and estimate of cost the Surveyor estimates the duties. The consignee or importer then gives a bond with sureties to the approval of the Surveyor for double the amount of the duties, conditional for their payment according to the terms of the act. The Surveyor then notifies the Collector at Astoria, by sending him a copy of the bond and schedule. When the goods arrive at Astoria they must be entered there in the manner now prescribed by law, and the Collector shall give a permit to land them there, ascertain the amount of the duties upon them and keep them in his custody until re-shipped to Portland. The Collector at Astoria must certify to the Surveyor at Portland the amount of the duties as ascertained by him, which the Surveyor must enter on the bond therefor. These preliminaries completed, the goods can be re-shipped to Portland, manifests of each shipment from Astoria being first made out and sworn to by the master of the boat on which they are shipped. Upon the comparison of the goods at Portland with the manifest at Astoria the goods are delivered to the importer or consignee, and the Surveyor deposits the bond for the duties in a bank for collection, to be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury.

This curious legislation is the result of three or four years grumbling, petitioning and soliciting on the part of Portland, to have this place made a port of entry, where importations could be made direct, whether in American or foreign bottoms, and where the duties could be ascertained and paid at once, or the goods bonded until they could find a market. As it is now, duties are paid here to an officer of the customs, who comes up from Astoria in charge of the vessel and inspects the delivery of cargo. At least such is the case with American bottoms, and because they cannot come here, importations are not often made in foreign ones. Under the new act, I do not find any authority for a foreign bottom to come here, and it looks like in the case of an American one, that the goods must be first landed at Astoria and then re-shipped to Portland. If the law is not peremptory (and of this there is a question) that all goods destined for Portland must be entered under the act of 1831, I imagine that all importations in American bottoms will continue to be made under the old law. The importer may gain some time under the new system for the payment of duties, and, as now, he can pay them here but at the expense of much circumlocution, whether necessary or not, I will not pretend to say. The importer living here and the duties being finally ascertained at Astoria, 120 miles from here, it is not hard to imagine, considering the distance and difficulty of communication, the time and trouble it will take to settle any question between the importer and the Custom house. The compensation of the surveyor as provided by the act of 1831 is the customary fees and $550 per annum. The customary fees are nothing, and not much of a surveyor will be got here for this pittance, in greenbacks at that.

On the whole I think we have a right to say that the result is a lame and impotent conclusion compared with what we started in for, and thought we ought to get.

Rebel Property Confiscated.—The barkentine W. B. Scranton, for a long time running in the lumber trade between Puget Sound and San Francisco, was, to the extent of one sixteenth, owned by George Harris, residing in North Carolina, which fact being proven the said share was recently condemned by the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, and ordered to be sold at auction for the benefit of Government.

The seventh Annual Fair of the Linn county Agricultural Society is to be held at Boston, Sept. 7th and 8th. One thousand dollars in premiums will be awarded. The adjoining counties of Marion, Polk, Benton and Lane are invited to become members and compete for the premiums. The annual address will be delivered at 10 o'clock, A. M. the first day.

Death of Gen McPherson.—A private dispatch dated at Marysville yesterday, has reached us which says: A private telegram to Louis McLane announces the death of Gen McPherson, who was killed in battle before Atlanta.

The Statesman of the 27th says:

We learn that Mr Beck of Portland has been appointed Deputy United States Assessor for the district composed of the counties of Marion and Clackamas, in place of J. C. Cartwright resigned.

From Crooked River Again

Camp Maury, Oregon,
July 20th 1864.

Editor Oregonian:

Having just returned with Capt Drake's command from [illegible] [illegible], I [illegible] a portion of my promised [illegible] though very little has transpired since my last worthy of mention.

We left here on the 7th June, the command consisting of the greater part of Company D, 1st Oregon Cavalry. The march to Harney Valley was without [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] except that [illegible] captured a squaw and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] travel in the valley. [illegible] [illegible] Capt Currey with part of Companies A, E and [illegible] from Walla Walla and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] except a small party which they surprised at [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in Harney Valley. They came immediately by [illegible] Waymire's [illegible] [illegible] but [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] from the canyon.

From where the commands made a junction we all moved in a northwesterly course until within 20 miles of Canyon City and from thence across the mountains in the direction of the camp [illegible] the head waters of the south fork of John Day's river on the head waters of the middle fork of Crooked river arriving at the latter camp on the evening of 11th July. On the 12th our Indians took a [illegible] [illegible] very unexpectedly upon the same band of Indians who fought us [illegible] May when Lieut Watson was killed. The Snakes immediately began firing and soon shot the horse from under one of the Warm Spring Indians. Our scouts being greatly outnumbered slowly fell back to camp, one of the scouts having [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to his fate and another [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in the willows. Afterwards the body of the former was recovered, and the latter brought in safe by a party that went to their assistance.

Immediately that our scouts returned with the news we were in our saddles and away at a trot, but the game had flown, having first set fire to their lodges and heaped everything on which in their haste they found it inexpedient to take with them. We found their trail after considerable search, but were obliged to abandon the idea of following them until we could get supplies from the camp, having already as much time and it being near night. Accordingly the following day, Capts Drake and Currey with a portion of each command started in pursuit, disburdened of everything in the shape of baggage, except the absolute necessities of a week or ten days' travel. The fleeing Indians led us over an almost impassable country to the South Fork of John Day's, which lies at the point where they struck it, at the bottom of an awful chasm, over a thousand yards in depth. Into this gorge the Indians had descended with their stock, and out of it we followed them. The trail still freshening. But the wary savages had gone up a canyon on the opposite side by an easy ascent, and while our front halted for the remainder of the command, to complete their descent, the Snakes suddenly appeared on the point of the bluff almost directly overhead and began discharging their guns at us. Capt Currey sent D company forward to take and hold the bluff opposite the Indians and A company back to secure our rear from an attack from the hill we had just descended. He then began moving the command by a circuitous route to the top of the hill, which company D had secured, and under the cover of protection from this hill on to the bluff where the Snakes were. But the Indians having lost their advantage, and yet having made their point of gaining time for their flying stock, they were again non est inventus.

This little skirmish lasted about an hour, in it nobody was hurt—one horse only, was slightly wounded in the hip—the distance was so great that they, being above, were out of the range of our guns, and the Indians firing almost perpendicularly down are supposed to have shot over, as their missiles—what few were observed—took effect in the hill beyond. That day's chase and skirmish convinced me of the entire impossibility of doing any good by pursuing these marauders, when they once know that you are upon their trail, and they prefer running to fighting—the only way in which they can be punished is to catch them unawares and that can only be done by the merest scratch. I suppose that our officers came to the same conclusion, for the next day we took a roundabout route for camp. The whole expedition then returned to Camp Maury, this being our depot for supplies. Our—Capt Drake's—depot is to be moved in a day or two to better grass for the animals, and I understand Capt. Currey's command soon starts back to his depot beyond Harney Valley. How the programme for the future reads, of course I don't know, if anything of note occurs, I shall write you again before we come in this fall.

Till then, yours,
ILLAS CULTUS.

P. S.—Camp Gibbs, July 23d.—The delay of our expressman enables me to add that our depot has been moved about four miles to a pleasant locality which has been honored by the above name. Since here both Captains Currey and Drake have gone out with large scouting parties in different directions.

I am glad, sir, that an opportunity is given me to reply to an article which has fallen under my notice, which appeared in the Oregonian of the 4th inst., signed "Co. G, 1st Ogn Cav." That letter was written to use a mild form of expression, "in very bad taste," and the remarks I have heard consequent upon its perusal, have indicated to me that justice to officers and men who are enduring all kinds of hardship in this desert country for scarcely any remuneration at all, demands that somebody refute its false statements. At any rate, by your permission I shall try. (I am a non-combatant you know, and not writing in self-defence.) Like all specimens of special pleading, it starts off with a fact, and has running through it a vein of truth, all of which is so distorted however, that no impartial reader among us can for a moment doubt the animus of the writer. In fact, it was remarked to me when I began guessing its authorship that I must select from the ones capable of penning that article the spree headed. If I would know the man. But with the man we have nothing to do, with the abstract truth of any published statement (which is quite another matter) we have.

That this expedition was sent out for the protection of miners and prospectors in the John Day's country I do not deny, but that that was the sole object of the expedition neither I or your late correspondent can be certain. I rather think it was not. Certain it is that for a series of years scarcely a party of either soldiers or citizens have passed through the Harney Lake country without falling in with bands of hostile Indians and this in connection with the fact that only last spring Lieut Waymire followed upon the trail of Indian horse-thieves from Canyon City to the Harney Lake country were surely sufficient reasons for the opinion that these marauders had their home and rendezvous somewhere in that vicinity, and that that was the proper place to send troops for their punishment. That there is a small band who stay in the country about the head waters of Crooked river and the south fork of John Day's and that they are participants in the atrocities committed on the Canyon City road, the events developed by this expedition, I think clearly prove, and it is not unlikely had the officer in command the freedom of his discretion that he would have pursued these Indians after our first fight with them, but both he and Capt. Currey were ordered to meet one another in Harney valley, and the man who finds fault with the discipline of the command, being an officer, either knows nothing about it or wilfully misrepresents the whole matter. Simply as I have stated it, I think no one can fail to see reasons worthy of entertaining why the commander of the department ordered and why the commander of this expedition did as he did.

Now for the statement that Lieut. Watson lost his life by not being properly supported. How extremely false that is you will understand when I state (as I did in my first letter) that the country in which that battle was fought precluded arrangement of the [illegible] and that Watson by his own choice led where he fell, and that the first and only Lieut McCall the only other commissioned officer led at the other end of the battle ground and the result proved that neither he nor poor Watson knew exactly where the Indians were or that they were so well posted. Had Lieut. McCall been allied with as much prudence it might well ten to this special charge of not being properly supported, the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] by calling the [illegible] "one of the best officers in the regiment"—as he [illegible] but that is not put in the [illegible] allow the false [illegible] [illegible] entirety. Truly has it been remarked that "the faultfinder's harvest is always the [illegible]."

The man who calls himself "Co. G" is very careful to keep public attention to the agricultural and mineral capabilities of this Crooked River country, saying it is one of the finest in the State, etc. How can he have been prospecting while the rest of us have been Indian hunting—for in truthful portion it can be called fertile and its mineral wealth has as yet been discovered, though it has been pretty thoroughly looked over.

The prediction that this expedition will return in the fall without having accomplished anything good is gratuitously given, and couple this with the charge that this command is not much on the fight is positively atrocious and is a gross slander upon every man connected with it excepting probably he who could make it. I must bear witness to the anxiety I have seen manifested on all sides to meet the Indians and to fight them. Its the energy in their pursuit and to the bravery under fire whenever they have fought them, from the first battle under Lieut Waymire a little band that I, from this to the present writing. Yes the Oregon cavalry are on the fight, and it was very wrong for one man to sign the name of a whole letter of a whole Company to a contrary assertion. But then people will measure corn in their own half bushels.

In "Co. G's" letter we are told that it is unsafe for parties to travel through this country. To a certain extent this is true—but I believe that 25 men could go out from one end of it to the other without danger, provided they used the ordinary precautions of keeping a guard at night and avoiding the deep and rocky canyons when traveling. These Indians are not going to take any chances, and will not attack unless they can get the drop on their victims by suddenly surprising them.

But my postscript is becoming longer than my letter—at some other time I will notice the [illegible] that I have learned in the suggestions that this same [illegible] campaign has opened in my [illegible], regarding these matters in the hope that, though from whom the source they will help to call on the consideration of Congress to terms these public enemies. In the meantime I [illegible] still Washington, July 22.—Dispatches received by the government at this [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that the rebel General Joseph Johnston has been superseded by Gen J B Hood of Texas and a battle [illegible] [illegible] taken place between the opposing armies in which the rebels were defeated. A dispatch has also been received [illegible] Atlanta but no official announcement of the occupation of that place by our forces has as yet come to hand.

Louisville, July 22.—To-day's Nashville Union says: A telegram from Gen Sherman says the enemy fiercely attacked him [illegible] on Wednesday (20th), and were handsomely repulsed and roughly handled. The Gen [illegible] that the armies [illegible] now on level ground and [illegible] [illegible] more equal.

An installment of fifty rebel women from [illegible] arrived here to-night. Three hundred and fifty more are reported at Nashville to be forwarded here and sent out of the limits of the Northern States.

New York, July 22.—The Herald's Nashville dispatch says Gen [illegible] [illegible] Demar [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] important raid with a force of 15,000 well mounted men and 1000 of them armed with Spencer's repeating rifles. The route taken is one that has never been followed during the war. It must be identical with the track pursued by Jackson in the Creek Indian war. The first point of any importance is Blountsville, five miles from Coosa river, thence they move rapidly upon Talladega and the bridges [illegible] or ford over the Tallapoosa river. This route between these two streams is to be very rapidly pursued and the bridges to be completely destroyed. The passage of the Tallapoosa will probably be made at Lapell—this will bring the force to Dadeville where there is a mountain road which leads to the railroad at convenient points where the work of destruction will soon commence. Eleven or eight bridges on the railroad between Montgomery and Opelika. The probable number of tunnels and bridges will be found in the valley.

There are two bridges over Big Hollow Gulf creek and Ascanugper Creeks near Columbus, on the other route there are three bridges. Returning, after the destruction of the road, Rosseau is to move up the west side of the Chattahoochie and if an opportunity offers to join Sherman between Marietta and Chattahoochie. If this route is thwarted Rosseau is to make straight for Pensacola and there take vessels to New Orleans, thence to Nashville.

Richmond papers of the 20th say: We have the first report of Rosseau's work. Dispatches from Atlanta to the 18th say telegraphic communication with Montgomery was suspended last night. The interruption is supposed to be caused by a portion of cavalry reported at Talladega on the 16th. No trains to-day from West Point.

A Nashville telegram says: The success of Sherman's move resulted in the eastern and southern communications with Atlanta being interrupted this leads to the belief that the rebels have been foiled in their attempt to escape. Our operations at that place has been narrowed to a siege. A large cavalry force some time since, left the army at different points, have doubtless cut the Macon and Columbus Railroad, in such a manner, that if the enemy leave the city to go South they will fail.

Cairo, July 23.—The Memphis Bulletin of the 20th has published a statement made before the Provost Marshall, by Lieut Allen from Forrest's command who deserted. He took an oath that General S D Lee commands Polk's old Department, that Richardson has been superseded by Neely, he having been charged with making two millions out of the conscript business. Richardson escaped punishment and is now living in Western Tennessee.

Allen confirms the reported wounding of Forrest, at Tupelo. The rebels lost 1 500 men in the fight at Guntown with Gen Sturgis. The most of this loss attributed to the desperate fighting of the negro troops. Nearly all their victims were shot through the head and breast. Allen knew nothing of the President's amnesty proclamation and says the rebel soldiers are ignorant of it.

Southern people think if Lee and Johnston are beaten, the Confederacy will fall. Little confidence felt in the Confederacy by the people, who are heartily tired of the dreadful pressure to which they are compelled to submit.

Forrest got 5000 men by his conscription in Kentucky.

Bath (Me.), July 21.—A fire has been raging on the south side of the city since Saturday (16th.) Hundreds of acres have been burned over, and for the last two days the city has been seriously threatened. The fire has worked its way up to the very edge of the city.

Later.—The fire which has been raging since the 16th has been extinguished. The fire has burned over a tract of six thousand acres extending six miles in length by three in breadth. The loss of property is very heavy, and will reach many hundred thousands.

New York, July 22.—The Times' special says:—The Public Debt on the 19th was $1,790,205,567, against $1,790,033,569 last year.

The report of an official demand for the surrender of Sommus is unfounded.

Washington, July 22.—The Overland Pacific Mail contract will expire on the 20th of September. The service is still open for those who desire to contract for its performance from the 20th September, 1864, to June 30th, 1868.

Circulars, with an advertisement for a new loan, have not yet been prepared, nor are its provisions known.

New York, July 22.—The Herald's Hilton Head correspondent says the object of expedition to John's Island, which was to withdraw troops to Savannah and other places being fully accomplished our forces were withdrawn. While our losses will not exceed 150, killed wounded and missing the rebels, must have been over five hundred.

Fort Leavenworth, July 22.—Colonel Ford telegraphs from Liberty that the people in the country north and east of that place have joined Thornton and his forces are rapidly increasing. Ford's force is too small to effect much and he asks for reinforcements. Arms have been sent from here to St Joseph and Kansas City for the arming of loyal men called out by Gen Fisk.

Later dispatches from Col Ford say Thornton with 2,000 men are moving north probably with the intention of striking the railroad. Ford left Liberty this morning in pursuit.

Gen Curtis has several armed boats patrolling the Missouri to prevent the rebels crossing. Rickler and Banks are reported to have one thousand men in southwest Missouri threatening our communications with Fort Scott and the southwest. It is believed that 5 000 of Price's men are in Missouri. If they are joined by Thornton's guerrillas and the Paw Paws, they will make a formidable force. A portion of our State militia have been called out, and troops in this Department will be concentrated for co-operation.

Chicago, July 23.—The following additional particulars regarding Gen Smith's expedition have been received:

It consisted of two divisions of infantry one brigade of negro troops and a division of cavalry. He left La Grange on the 5th proceeding in a south westerly direction. On its advance the cavalry encountered a body of rebels seven miles north of Ripley. A brief skirmish ensued resulting in the rebels being driven back three and a half miles, with small loss. At this point they took a strong position on a high bluff, whence they were dislodged after an hour's fighting. Here the cavalry encamped awaiting the arrival of the infantry. On the morning of the 8th the whole force entered Ripley and then moved toward New Albany. The [illegible] Iowa cavalry were sent on a reconnoissance to the Tallahatchie, where they met a large force of rebels occupying a strong position. A skirmish ensued and the rebels fell back. On the morning of the 11th the expedition crossed the Tallahatchie and arrived before Pontotoc which place they entered after an hour's fighting—the rebels being driven in every direction, leaving their killed and wounded in our hands. Forrest, who was all this time at Brascieur's Cross roads expecting to meet the expedition there, finding himself foiled moved rapidly to Okolona, where he threw his forces out six miles west of Prairie Mount taking a commanding position in that chain of hills.

On the 13th the expedition instead of moving toward Okolona as Forrest expected, marched in the direction of Tupelo. Forrest left his position also

City Council.—The Common Council, of the city of Portland met last night. Present, Councilmen Starr, Cook, Bennett, Frazar, Gradon and Hurgren.

The President being absent, Councilman Starr was elected Chairman pro tem.

The minutes of the last evening were read and approved.

The petition of C. S. Shank to sell liquors in less quantities than a quart, at the Dennison House was granted.

Chief Engineer Buchtel recommended the purchase of a fire bell for the use of Engine House, No 4 inasmuch as the city was in the possession of some alarm bells which could not be appropriated to a better use. The recommendation was referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

The petition of the City Marshal, to have water pipes placed in the city Jail was referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

Ira Goodenough Councilman from the Second Ward tendered his resignation which was accepted.

The Committee on Fire and Water reported the purchase of leading hose from S. Sherlock & Co. amounting to $75 23 and on motion, a warrant was ordered drawn for the amount.

The Judiciary Committee to whom was referred the proposition of H D Green, President of the Portland Water Company in reference to furnishing the city with water was recommended that the proposition be accepted.

The whole subject was referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

The City Surveyor's report, giving the grades established for the different streets, accompanied with profiles was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

The bills of A. Holbrook for $125 00 and F M Playford for $8 00 were ordered paid.

On motion, the report of the Committee on Streets and Public Property, in reference to the petition of the O S N Co, asking the privilege of improving the foot of Pine street, was taken from the table, and on motion, the whole subject matter was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with instructions to report by Ordinance.

Council adjourned.

Bar at the Mouth of the Willamette.—The officers of the steamer Vancouver, informs us that there is at present but thirteen feet of water on the bar at the mouth of this river, and the river will fall some five and a half feet before the end of the season. It is asserted that the steamer Oregon, on her way to this port, is drawing fourteen feet of water, and will be unable to reach this city without discharging some of her freight. A great deal has been said as to the duty of our citizens to purchase a dredging machine to clear the sands from the bar. We have always been of the opinion that it would justify the different lines plying between San Francisco and Portland, to build some strong and substantial light draught steamers, adapted to this trade, that will be able at any stage of the water, to reach this city without difficulty.

Depraved Boys.—We have often had occasion to speak of the low mischief which the bad boys in our community have been guilty of, not so much from the want of gossip as for the purpose of calling the attention of their parents or guardians so that a timely correction may be made. But all our talk seems to be of no avail, from the fact that a piece of vandalism, perpetrated by some of these boys, come to our notice yesterday. We are informed that some of them went to the house of Bishop Scott, which is undergoing repairs, tore up and otherwise mutilated the inside of the building. The Marshal has possession of the names of some of the boys, and the Bishop seriously thinks of having some of them arrested and locked up for a few hours, which may be a lesson to them.

Out on Drill.—Company "B," Washington Guards, Capt Mills commanding, marched through our streets, preceded by martial music and presented quite a military appearance. Soldiers who will go through their evolutions on such a hot afternoon as we had yesterday, without complaining may surely be relied on when the State may need their services.

Special Term.—A special term of the Circuit Court, for this county, has been ordered by Judge Shattuck, to commence on Monday, August 15th, for the purpose of hearing and determining chancery cases.

U. S. District Court.—The United States District Court will meet this morning, when Justice Deady will render a decision in the case of the United States against the steamer Maria.

Grain for San Francisco.—The bark Industry which sails this morning takes as freight from this city sixty tons of wheat and oats besides ten tons of other produce for the San Francisco market.

Schools Commencing.—On Monday, Aug 1st, the public school and Bethel Israel schools of this city, will be re-opened for the reception of scholars.

Treasure.—Wells, Fargo & Co's Express brought but $10,000 in gold dust. There was no connection with the boats above the Dalles.

The Monthly Meeting of the Ladies Sanitary Aid Society will be held at the Baptist Church, Friday, July 29th, at 3½ P. M.

Mental Depression.—It has often been remarked that no one can minister to a mind diseased; but a mind diseased is frequently only the consequence of a disordered digestion, and naturally finds relief when the process of nutrition is restored to a healthful state. The PERUVIAN SYRUP removes the morbid condition of the stomach, quickens the circulation, increases the insensible perspiration, and consequently relieves the mind from the causes of its depression.

"A Slight Cold," Coughs.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "SLIGHT COLD" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.

REDINGTON & Co., San Francisco, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—These Bitters are universally acknowledged to be a sure preventive and cure for Fever and Ague, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection. Their effect upon the system is most miraculous; they give a healthy tone to the system; relieve all morbid matter, and in fact thoroughly cleanse the system of all impurities. In no case has it been known to fail, but on the contrary, new virtues have been found in its use. To those afflicted with any of the above ills of the body, the "Bitters" are offered as a speedy and certain cure. Try them and form your own opinion.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere. Je26d1m ☞ Periodical Headache—so common in uncleared and marshy countries, Tic Douloureux, that most painful affection of the nerves of the face, are often only attacks of ague in disguise—proceeding from the same noxious influence. Jaundice, Dyspepsia and Diarrhea, are frequently but disguised forms of Intermittent Fever. Even Rheumatism and Epilepsy, often result from the same miasmal cause. For such, Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue is an unfailing remedy. By striking at the root of these affections, it applies with equal certainty, as for the cure of Fever and Ague in its simplest forms.

Imitations are abroad. Be particular to enquire for Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. Sold everywhere.

A GREAT INDUSTRIAL FAIR

To be opened in the City of

SAN FRANCISCO,

On the 30th day of August, 1864,

Under the direction of the Mechanics' Institute,

OF SAN FRANCISCO.

The attention of the public is invited to this great display of our skill, industry and enterprise. To explain the objects and benefits of the Exhibition, of the preparations for holding it, and the regulations for its management, a Circular has been published by the Institute in letter form and widely distributed. It may be seen at any office of Wells, Fargo & Co., at any Post Office, and at many of the country stores, throughout the Pacific States and Territories.

The various Transportation Companies will, with commendable liberality, transport all articles intended exclusively for exhibition, FREE OF CHARGE; and Wells, Fargo & Co. in like manner, will take charge of them

All articles forwarded should be labeled "For the Industrial Exhibition," and be directed to C. B. PORTER, Agent, and all communications be addressed to

WHAT KILLED HIM!

DR. HALL, IN HIS "JOURNAL OF HEALTH," speaking of the death of Washington Irving asks the above question, and adds: "He might well have remained with us for some years to come, had it not been for advice kindly intended, no doubt, but given in thoughtlessness and reckless ignorance.

HE HAD A COLD!

which by some injudicious prescription had been converted into an Asthma. Who gave that prescription or what it was, the outside world may never know." Let me say to Dr Hall that that "prescription" was not for that is an article that does not engender heart disease, nor is it productive of any Asthmatic affections. On the contrary, it will cure such affections; and as for,

NATIONAL LEAGUE AND LINCOLN.—The members of the National Union League called upon the President June 9th, when the chairman of the deputation addressed the President as follows:

Mr. President,—I have the pleasure of introducing to you the representatives of the Union Leagues of the loyal States to congratulate you upon your re-nomination, and to assure you that we will not fail at the polls to give you the support that your services in the past so highly deserve. We feel honored in doing this; for we are assured that we are aiding in reelecting to the proud position of President of the United States one so highly worthy of it—one among not the least of whose claims is, that he was the emancipator of four millions of bondsmen.

The President replied as follows:

Gentlemen.—I can only say in response to the remarks of your chairman, I suppose, that I am very grateful for the renewed confidence which has been accorded to me, both by the Convention and by the National League. I am not insensible at all to the personal compliment there is in this; yet I do not allow myself to believe that any but a small portion of it is to be appropriated as a personal compliment to me. The Convention and the nation, I am assured, are alike animated by a higher view of the interests of the country for the present and the great future, and that part I am entitled to appropriate as a compliment is only that which I may lay hold of as being the opinion of the Convention and of the League, that I am not entirely unworthy to be entrusted with the place I have occupied for the last three years. I have not permitted myself, gentlemen, to conclude that I am the best man in the country; but I am reminded in this connection of a story of an old Dutch farmer who remarked to a companion once, "that it was not best to swop horses when crossing a stream."

THE NAVAL DEFEAT OF JOHN BULL.—The Stockton Independent thus comments on the late affair of the Kearsarge and the Alabama:

The sinking of the pirate Alabama by the United States steam sloop Kearsarge, a vessel inferior in tonnage and the number of its guns and crew to the Alabama, is to be regarded as something more than a victory over pirates. It is in fact a naval victory of the United States over England. There was nothing about the pirate craft American, but her commander. She was English from keel to smoke stack; manned by an English crew, partly from English men-of-war, and armed by English guns. She was regarded as a superb model of English naval strength, speed and fighting qualities. And we have not the least doubt that it was from the urgent solicitations of Englishmen then in Cherbourg that Semmes reluctantly made up his mind to risk a fight with the Kearsarge. They confidently anticipated that the Alabama would compel the Kearsarge to strike her flag, and then Bull would have claimed it as a British victory.

A writer says: We are often troubled with severe coughs, the results of a cold of long standing, which may turn to consumption and premature death. Hard coughs cause sleepless nights, by a constant irritation in the throat, and a strong effort to throw off offending matter from the lungs. The remedy I propose has been tried by me, and often recommended to others with goods results, which is simply to take into the stomach, before retiring at night, a piece of raw onion, after chewing. This esculent, in an uncooked state, is very heating, and tends to collect the waters from the lungs and throat, causing immediate relief to the patient. Sliced onion, in a raw state, will collect poison from the air, and also from the human system when taken internally, or externally applied to the arm-pits.

SOMETHING NEW IN SHIP BUILDING.—Ariel Patterson, at the foot of North Third street, Brooklyn, E. D., is now building a lighter which will not contain a single particle of metallic fastening. The frame work of the vessel consists of one plank diagonally placed and bent to run from bulwark to bulwark in a single piece. These are held in place by [illegible] locust treenails, thus doing away with the spike and copper nails ordinarily used, and which rapidly corrode and rust. The lighter will be completed in about two weeks, and is warranted to do three times the usual service of that kind of craft.—N. Y. News May 11th.

A very odd case of petty malice in a will was that of a man who, not having a penny in the world, left a will, in which he bequeathed to his friends and acquaintances large estates in various parts of England, money in the funds, rings, jewels, and plate. His inducement was the prospect of the delight of his friends at first learning about the rich possessions which were to be theirs, and then the bitter disappointment at finding how they had been hoaxed.

FELLOWSHIP.—Please to remember that "you live," as says Augustin, "in the union and society of all men; that he who has been formed by the same hand that made you, is your brother and your companion." Love and treat him as such. Plato, even, says there is no greater good to a State, than for persons to be the acquaintances of each other; since, where the manners of each are not known, distrust, and even injustice will be generated.

THE VALUE of an ounce of gold is $19; of a pound avoirdupois, $304; of a ton, $508,000. Our national debt of two thousand millions would weigh in pure gold 6,578,947 pounds, or 3,289 tons of solid gold. The same value in silver weighs fifteen times as much as in gold, and our national debt would weigh forty-nine thousand three hundred and thirty-five tons in pure silver.

A NAVAJO WOMAN, who recently acted as guide to a party of Mexicans in a journey from the Navajo country to Santa Fe, says that in her country gold is so common that the Indians use it to make bullets. If this news is true, the whites will not be slow in [illegible] this Eldorado, notwithstanding the Navajo Indians and their guns loaded with golden bullets.

The Atlanta papers says the Confederate troops are "stripping for the work before them." Troops half naked can strip without much trouble. The rebels would be quite excusable for stripping themselves when living, if they didn't strip our poor fellows when dead.

As an example that "the evil that hoops do lives after them," a gentleman of New York lately complained of injuries inflicted on horses which have been badly cut up by becoming entangled in those nets which have been cast into the streets.

THE NewYork correspondent of the Chicago Journal says Fremont will be tendered the Union nomination for Governor of the State of New York, with the understanding that he withdraws from the Presidential canvass.

"Twelve hundred pounds for a mare! it can't be," quoth Bagstock. "Oh, that's nothing," says Cyfax; "Richard offered his kingdom for a horse, and no takers."

Those who court disgrace are sure not to be jilted.

Marvels will never cease. This year the old Stuyvesant pear tree, which has stood for over two hundred and twenty-five years at the corner of what is now called Third avenue and Thirteenth street, is laden with the promise of a remarkably fine yield of fruit. Those who have seen the venerable monarch of a long departed orchard, which some time since was inclosed and guarded from the sacrilegious touch of the multitude as a thing fast moldering to decay, and which has seemed to us so old and sere that we should not have wondered to see it lying a mass of crumbled ashes any morning, will regard this regeneration as something little short of a miracle. Last year, to the surprise of all, this mighty tree bore one large pear; this year it promises to vie with the healthiest specimen of any farmer's orchard in its wealth of produce. Some superstitious people declare the fact an omen of favorable import, and believe that the pears will soon ripe in the same sun which shall shine over the glorious re-establishment of our Union. We hope they are right.

In a hot summer, when there is most thirst there are fewest brooks. So of many people's charity—they are rarest when most needed.

Solution of Protoxide of Iron,

Has been used with Great Success in Curing

DYSPEPSIA,

Affections of the Liver, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Consumptive Tendencies, Disordered State of the Blood, Female Complaints, Chronic Diarrhoea, Boils, Scurvy, the prostrating effects of Lead or Mercury,

GENERAL DEBILITY,

and all Diseases which require a

Tonic and Alterative Medicine.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous, so well authenticated, and of such peculiar character, that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.

The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure, is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

From well-known Citizens of Boston.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the "Peruvian Syrup," do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN; and this solution may replace all the proto carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M. D.,

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DIScovery of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1850, page 76.)

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER.

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

Full directions accompany each bottle.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured, strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged,

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET,

"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness, and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well. * * * Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle.
